

STUDY TOUR 2018 at

Image Ledegank after Renovation

June 28th 2018 Karl Lodewijk Ledeganck Straat 35, 9000 Ghent, Belgium

Are you aware that a considerable part of laboratory projects are refurbishments. This is an increasing market. Some important life science faculties now are researching in a renovated contemporary and pleasant building in Ghent. Here are some impressive numbers:

- 44.000 m² floor space
- Renovation from 2010-2019 while labs are still in use
- High tech phytotrons and botanical garden, auditorium, practical rooms
- Heat recovery by air handling units, flexible lay out, co-generation units, new curtain wall

This tour is an indispensable duty for entities intending to renovate old lab buildings. Presenters refer hurdles and solutions on the pathway from an old research building to a site providing necessities for high end research.
