European Association for Sustainable Laboratories

May 16th 2018 Roche Diagnostics GmbH, Nonnenwald 2, 82377 Penzberg

The laboratory and office complex of Roche AG at the upper Bavarian site in Penzberg is the first building with the divisions pharmaceuticals and diagnostics consolidated in one location. Beside lab and office work space the building at the south-west border of the Roche premises furthermore is home of a training centre, a bistro and the medical and health service.

An atrium is surrounded by six floors, with 37.600m<sup>2</sup> total floor area, interconnects floors and divisions by axes of view obtaining the pulsating heart of the building. The bright roofed space directs day light to inner rooms. The ground floor is used as zone of interaction and communication usable for events and provides connection to bistro and conference areas. Whereas the 1st floor is reserved for training centre the upper four floors are used for labs and offices.
